TEAM PROJECTS

The class is divided into diverse teams to identify issues of importance to the profession and ultimately ITE. The groups work on a project during the program year with an assigned Leadership ITE Alumni member as well as an International Board of Direction mentor. They develop white papers and present to the ITE Board members at the conclusion of the program. An example of past team projects includes:

- Recruitment and Retention of Young Professionals
- Enabling the Incoming Workforce to Meet Projected Needs of Transportation Professionals
- Breaking the Trend of Auto Dependency
- Defining ITE's Role in Transportation Advocacy
- ITE the "Go To" in Complete Streets
- How do Transportation Professionals Implement Emerging Technology of Connected and Autonomous Vehicles

NETWORKING AND EXPOSURE

Numerous opportunities are provided for substantial networking and national exposure to the industry.

- Active engagement with ITE International Board, ITE leaders past and present and Washington policy leaders
- Highlights in ITE Journal
- Opportunities for participation in national committees and ITE International meetings
- Engagement with the "next generation" of transportation professionals in the public, private and academic sectors
- Employer exposure with each mention of a Leadership ITE participant in local and international meetings and ITE publications
- Ongoing alumni engagement and activities with other classes

CONTINUING EDUCATION AND TRAINING

Complimentary registration at ITE International meetings that occur in conjunction with the Leadership ITE program including the ITE Annual Meeting and Exhibit.
